

OK, there is a 50-50 chance for existence of God!

Pascal's Wager: "If you believe in God and turn out to be incorrect, you have lost nothing - but if you don't believe in God and turn out to be incorrect, you will go to Hell."

Is it really a Safer Bet to believe in Scriptural God?

If so, which "God" to choose?

Well, lets see!

I have considered ONLY 22 major religions. The major religions are ranked by the number of adherents. I have given little more points to Christianity, Islam and Hinduism for NO reason (just to make them round figure?)! Now, calculate your probability to go to Heaven or to avoid Hell!
